The corporate governance of Kagome Co., Ltd. (the “Company”) is described below.

I. Basic Views on Corporate Governance, Capital Structure, Corporate Profile and Other Basic Information

1. Basic Views

In accordance with its corporate philosophy of “appreciation,” “nature” and “corporate openness,” the Company aims to achieve sustainable growth and improve the mid- to long-term value of the Company. The Company acknowledges corporate governance to be a critical management issue toward these objectives.

The Company considers further strengthening of “autonomy” complemented by “heteronomous” to be the fundamentals of its corporate governance. It will ensure objectivity and transparency, forming a basis by designing its own concept of corporate governance adapted to the present day, while incorporating diverse outside viewpoints by working to attract more “Kagome Fan Shareholders” and leveraging the function of external directors among other things.

The Company aims to deliver a high degree of accountability and achieve the “corporate openness” in its interactions with stakeholders, while employing the unique attributes and originality of Kagome.

[Reasons for Non-compliance with the Principles of the Corporate Governance Code]

The Company implements every principle of the Corporate Governance Code in its entirety. In addition, information appearing in this report is pursuant to the revised Corporate Governance Code, including details for the new “prime” market.

[Disclosure Based on the Principles of the Corporate Governance Code]

Principle 1.4 Cross-Shareholdings

(1) Policy regarding cross-shareholdings

The Company holds the shares of companies if it judges that doing so is necessary to achieve sustainable growth or enhance its social value and economic value, or to build good relations with business partners and facilitate business as part of management strategy, including business alliances and the stable procurement of raw materials. Under the basic policy of disposing or reducing, as promptly as possible, the holding of certain shares which are considered insignificant in light of the situation at the end of the immediately preceding business year, the Company examines at meetings of the Board of Directors every year the significance, economic rationality and other factors of cross-shareholding and determines whether or not to continue each holding and the number of shares to be held. In the examination of economic rationality for each holding, the ratio of the amount which the issuer of the shares contributed to the profits of the Company in the immediately preceding business year to the value of the shares held by the Company at the end of the business year is calculated. When the ratio is below a figure equivalent to approximately double the average ROA of the Company for the past five years on a non-consolidated basis, such shares shall be subject to review for sale. In addition, shares whose market price has declined 30% or more from the book value thereof and shares of a company with whom the Company has transactions amounting less than 100 million yen per year are also subject to review for sale thereof. Moreover, shares of the Company’s suppliers and clients that do not meet these standards shall be subject to deliberation at meetings of the Board of Directors every year as to whether or not to sell them and those chosen shall be sold. As a result, the Company has sold some of its cross-shareholdings.

(2) Criteria for exercise of voting rights concerning cross-shareholdings

When exercising voting rights concerning cross-shareholdings, the Company comprehensively judges the arguments for and against, taking into consideration whether or not the proposed motion will help strengthen appropriate corporate governance systems or enhance shareholders value or the proposed motion's impact on the Company, and the Company exercises voting rights appropriately.

Where necessary, the Company engages in dialogue with the issuing company over the content of a proposed motion, etc.

(3) Policy for responding to cases where the intention to sell the Company's shares concerning cross-shareholding is indicated

If a company holding the Company's shares for cross-shareholding (shareholder in cross-shareholding) indicates its intention to sell the shares, the Company will unconditionally agree to the sale. In this case, any shares of the shareholder in the cross-shareholding held by the Company shall be disposed of as promptly as possible.

Principle 1.7 Related Party Transactions

The Company monitors related party transactions through its Board of Directors by setting out in the Regulations of the Board of Directors that any related party transaction requires the prior approval of the Board of Directors and that any related party transaction that takes place must be promptly reported to the Board of Directors and by conducting operations in accordance with the Regulations. The Audit & Supervisory Committee also conducts audits in accordance with the audit & supervisory standards of the Audit & Supervisory Committee.

[Supplemental principle 2.4.1 Ensuring Diversity in the Promotion to Core Human Resources]

The Company promotes diversity as an important issue pertaining to management strategy that forms the basis and foundation for the actions of its organizations and individuals aimed at achieving its long-term vision and what Kagome strives for by 2025. The Company has established a target for the promotion of female managerial employees aimed at realization of "50% of the workforce consisting of women – from employees to executive officers" in its long-term vision and the Company discloses the progress of its efforts through its integrated report and other means. In addition, the Company has appointed a foreign national as an executive officer of Kagome Co., Ltd. and it maintains a basic policy of promoting local foreign nationals to executive management and managerial positions at its overseas Group companies. In this manner, the Company is securing diversity in conjunction with the internationalization of its business domains. The Company has widely opened its doors to mid-career hires, too. It has introduced a career registration system on its corporate website in an effort to reinforce its foundation of human resources. Going forward, the Company is committed to ensuring that mid-career hires account for between 20 and 30% of all hiring and molding them into core human resources.

In addition, the Company has established the Human Resources Development Committee as a meeting body for deliberation and decision-making led by executive management. In this manner, the Company has put into place a system for closely examining and verifying the internal environment and human resources development empowering the Company's diverse workforce.

Principle 2.6 Exercise of Functions as Asset Owner of Corporate Pension Plan

The Company has introduced a defined contribution pension system for its employees' asset formation. In FY2021, the Company introduced an additional matching contribution system. In light of the significant impact of the management of the pension plan on the employees' asset formation, the Company aims to appropriately manage the assets by selecting and evaluating investment products from a number of perspectives, providing education on asset management to the employees and monitoring management performance on a half-yearly basis.

Principle 3.1 Full Disclosure

(1) The Company's vision (corporate philosophy, etc.) and its management strategy and medium-term management plan are disclosed on the Company's website and in financial results presentation materials, etc.

(URL: <http://www.kagome.co.jp/company/about/philosophy/>)

- (2) The Company discloses its basic views on corporate governance and its Basic Policy of Corporate Governance on the Company's website and in its annual reports, corporate governance reports, integrated reports, CSR reports, etc.

(URL: <http://www.kagome.co.jp/company/csr/management/governance/>)

[Basic Policy of Corporate Governance]

In accordance with its corporate philosophy of "appreciation," "nature" and "corporate openness," the Company aims to achieve sustainable growth and improve the mid- to long-term value of the Company. The Company acknowledges corporate governance to be a critical management issue toward these objectives.

The Company considers further strengthening of "autonomy" complemented by "heteronomous" to be the fundamentals of its corporate governance. It will ensure objectivity and transparency, forming a basis by designing its own concept of corporate governance adapted to the present day, while incorporating diverse outside viewpoints by working to attract more "Kagome Fan Shareholders" and leveraging the function of external directors among other things.

The Company aims to deliver a high degree of accountability and achieve the "corporate openness" in its interactions with stakeholders, while employing the unique attributes and originality of Kagome.

- (3) The Company discloses the policy and procedures by which the Board of Directors determines the compensation of senior management and directors in its annual reports, corporate governance reports, integrated reports, etc.

- (4) When the Board of Directors appoints senior management and nominates candidates for directors and audit & supervisory board members, the Company's policy is to appoint people who will help improve the mid-to long-term value of the Company, and the procedure is that the Board of Directors approves candidates selected by the Remuneration and Nomination Advisory Committee, which is made up of a majority of independent external directors, and to put proposals on candidates for directors before the General Meeting of Shareholders. In addition, the Company implements regular reviews and checks of the appropriateness of selecting officers by assessing the officers' performance and operating the Remuneration and Nomination Advisory Committee.

- (5) The appointment and removal of candidates for directors and external directors are explained in notices of convocation of general meetings of shareholders.

(Notice of the Annual General Meeting of Shareholders URL:

<http://www.kagome.co.jp/company/ir/meeting/>)

The Company has established an organization for the entire Group to address sustainability issues, will identify key issues and targets that need to be addressed across all of its business activities, and will enhance these activities going forward. Kagome defines sustainability as the aim of its business activities, which is to become a "strong company" capable of sustainable growth, using food as a means of resolving social issues.

In addition, the Company is reinforcing its human capital by working on human resources development that empowers employees to develop their careers autonomously pursuant to its human resources strategy aimed at improving the medium- to long-term value of the Company. Furthermore, the Company is reinforcing its intellectual property activities for maintaining sustainable competitiveness and these efforts are disclosed using Company's integrated report and other means. Moreover, the Company discloses patented technologies accessible to third parties through the websites of independent administrative corporations and public-service foundation corporations, etc., in order to ensure that its research outcomes benefit solutions to social issues.

Regarding risks and revenue opportunities related to climate change, the Company is addressing the TCFD recommendations. For impacts on its own business activities and revenue, etc., the Company collects and analyzes data and discloses it within its integrated report.

[Supplementary principle 4-1-1: Scope of Delegation of Authority to the Management Team]

The Company transitioned to a corporate structure with an audit and supervisory committee. The transition separates executive functions from supervisory functions, which helps clarify business responsibility and speed up decision-making and execution of operations. The provisions of the Articles of Incorporation enable important decision-making to be left wholly or partially to directors by resolution of the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors mainly assumes the role of making decisions via deliberation on the Company's policies and management strategies and matters that will help improve the mid- to long-term value of the Company and monitoring their progress, and important matters related to business execution except for matters such as business reorganization, M&A, the transfer or receipt of transfer of significant assets, the borrowing and lending of large amounts of funds, and personnel affairs, are left to the management led by the President, in principle.

Principle 4.9 Independence Standards and Qualifications for Independent External Directors

The Company has established "Standards for Judging the Independence of External Directors" and discloses these in notices of annual general meeting of shareholders, annual reports, corporate governance reports, integrated reports, etc. At present, one of the standards for judging independence stipulates that the total term of tenure as external director must be within eight years, but in the future the Company will verify the relationship between term of tenure and independence as it sees fit and will examine an appropriate term of tenure.

[Supplementary principle 4.10.1]

The Company has established the Remuneration and Nomination Advisory Committee, a majority of whose members are independent external directors, as an advisory body to the Board of Directors in order to enhance the independence and objectivity of the functions and accountability of the Board of Directors with regard to the remuneration and nomination of directors. The Board of Directors respects the inquiries of the Committee to every extent possible and ensures the appropriateness and fairness in the remuneration and nomination of directors and executive officers. Details of the composition of the Remuneration and Nomination Advisory Committee and the main deliberated matters are disclosed in the Company's integrated report and using other means.

[Supplementary principle 4-11-1: Preconditions for Board of Directors and Audit & Supervisory Board Effectiveness]

The Company believes that, to realize improvement in the mid-to long-term value of the Company by fully demonstrating the advisory function and monitoring function of the Board of Directors, it is desirable to ensure that the Board of Directors is of an appropriate size to be able to conduct high quality deliberation, while ensuring a composition that strikes a balance with diversity in terms of age, gender, knowledge, capability and experience. The procedure for appointing director candidates is that the Board of Directors makes decisions via deliberation by the Remuneration and Nomination Advisory Committee, the majority of whose members are external directors.

The Board of Directors currently consists of 10 directors, seven of whom are directors (excluding directors who are audit and supervisory committee members) and three of whom are directors who are audit and supervisory committee members. Five of its directors are independent external directors. The external directors have various career backgrounds including corporate management, academic, tax accountant, and lawyer, and they also have vast experience and knowledge for diversity management, business globalization, and extension of healthy life expectancy through food that form part of the Company's mid- to long-term vision. The skill matrix containing the knowledge, experience and skills of each director is disclosed in the Company's securities report and integrated report. One of the goals under the Company's long-term vision is "50% of the workforce consisting of women--from employees to executive officers" by around 2035-2040, and the Company is also aiming for early achievement of this goal with respect to its Board of Directors.

[Supplementary Principle 4-11-2: Preconditions for Board of Directors and Audit & Supervisory Board Effectiveness]

The Company stipulates in its internal regulations that the approval of management meeting must be obtained when a director excluding external director of the Company serves simultaneously as an officer of other companies, and the Company receives reports as necessary on the status of concurrent posts of external directors of the Company and confirms that they are able to fulfil their roles and responsibilities as directors of the Company, and there are no particular problem as of disclosure of this Code. The status of concurrent posts at other companies held by external directors is disclosed in notices of annual general meeting of shareholders, annual reports, corporate governance reports, etc.

[Supplementary Principle 4-11-3: Preconditions for Board of Directors and Audit & Supervisory Board Effectiveness]

The Company conducted an evaluation of the effectiveness of the Board of Directors in October 2021. Furthermore, the evaluation for this fiscal year was conducted by a third-party organization in order to incorporate an objective and independent viewpoint. A summary of the results is as follows.

1. Method of implementation of the evaluation

The Company conducted a survey of all directors and a third-party organization conducted interviews while referencing the results of this survey. Afterwards, the third-party organization analyzed these results and reported them to the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors conducted deliberations and evaluated the board's effectiveness based on the opinion of this third-party organization.

• Implementation of survey

The survey targeted all directors. Furthermore, matters concerning important themes to be addressed by the Board of Directors for enhancing the medium- to long-term value of the Company was added as an individual theme this fiscal year.

Implementation of survey of directors (all 7 areas, 38 criteria)

- (1) Design of the Board of Directors (size, composition, diversity, etc.)
- (2) Operation of the Board of Directors (frequency of meetings, time [explanations and deliberations], provision of information, secretariat support, etc.)
- (3) Proposals of the Board of Directors (setting of themes, timing of submission of proposals, reflection in management plans, follow-up, etc.)
- (4) Quality of discussions of the Board of Directors (documents, objectivity and multi-angled nature of discussions, accountability, leadership of chair, etc.)
- (5) Corporate governance structure (appointment/dismissal and compensation decision process, dialogue with stakeholders, etc.)
- (6) Overall evaluation (progress of improvement of corporate value, swiftness and flexibility of decision making, separation of business execution and oversight, etc.)
- (7) Individual themes (ultra-long-term strategy, business portfolio, global governance, ESG/SDGs, etc.)

Survey of the Remuneration and Nomination Advisory Committee (6 criteria)

Survey of the Audit and Supervisory Committee (8 criteria)

Survey of attendees of the Joint Risk Management Meeting (1 criteria)

Implementation of interviews

Individual interviews were conducted by a third-party organization on all directors.

Discussions involving the Chairperson of the Board and external directors

Free discussions were held involving the Chairperson of the Board and external directors to talk about diverse themes that could not be fully discussed during meetings of the Board of Directors.

Deliberations by the Board of Directors based on the foregoing

A venue was established for deliberation and discussions involving all directors while referencing the summary results of the foregoing surveys and interviews and the evaluation results of the third-party organization. In turn, the effectiveness of the Board of Directors was evaluated, issues were identified, priority ranking of each issue assigned, and consideration of response measures made.

2. Summary of evaluation results

The evaluation of the Company's Board of Directors following discussions based on the foregoing was that the Company's Board of Directors is generally adequate in all areas (1) - (7) and its effectiveness is fully ensured.

The Company carried out the following initiatives in response to the issues for which the Company recognized the necessity of further improvement in the previous evaluation of the effectiveness of the Board of Directors.

I. Exhaustive deliberation of important themes

Based on the opinions of each director in the previous evaluation of the effectiveness of the Board of Directors, an annual deliberation plan for meetings of the Board of Directors incorporating themes for deliberation was established and presented at the meeting of the Board of Directors held in January. In addition, exchanges of opinions involving the Chairperson of the Board and external directors were held on two occasions, and discussions on discussion points and important themes for deliberation by the Board of Directors identified through these exchanges were reflected in meetings of the Board of Directors.

II. Reporting of status of business execution

In addition to agenda items on business execution reported to the Board of Directors, the Company established opportunities for discussions offsite and outside of meetings of the Board of Directors, including on the status of business execution, for external directors led by human resources managers and product development managers.

III. Provision of information on the Company and general business operations

The Company worked to mitigate discrepancies in information among directors due to differing terms of office and differences among internal and external directors through the provision of information on the Company and its general business operations by adding results of the Management Meeting as agenda items for the monthly meeting of the Board of Directors and conducting online visits by members of the Board of Directors to the Nasu Plant, Innovation Division, and subsidiary in Australia.

In this evaluation of the effectiveness of the Board of Directors, a particularly high priority issue among the issues for which the Company recognized the necessity of further improvement was the “systematic review of long-term strategy.” In order to build a long-term vision for achieving sustainable growth as the Company implements its Third Mid-Term Management Plan from FY2022 to FY2025, the Board of Directors will work systematically to address this issue having established important themes that form the basis of these plans and vision.

The Company will seek to further improve the effectiveness of the Board of Directors based on the results of the latest evaluation of the effectiveness of the Board of Directors.

[Supplementary principle 4-14-2: Training Policy for Directors and Audit & Supervisory Board Members]

The Company’s policy is that Directors receive training on the roles and responsibilities of Directors on becoming Directors. The secretariat of the Board of Directors explains the management status and the corporate governance structure to external directors when they take up office, and also provides them with opportunities to visit overseas subsidiaries, plants, orchards and other business premises and to deepen their understanding of the Company’s management after they take up office.

In FY2016, the Company began providing training to all officers as part of planning for the development of successors. The training focuses on the roles and responsibilities and management knowledge required of senior managers, and helpful approaches and frameworks for the formulation and execution of strategies.

The Company encourages Directors and Executive Officers to participate in outside seminars and external organizations, and the cost of this is borne by the Company in accordance with internal regulations based upon requests by Directors, Executive Officers, etc.

Principle 5.1 Policy for Constructive Dialogue with Shareholders

Based on the idea that increasing understanding of the Company’s business operations through “dialogue and exchange activities” with shareholders and institutional investors will contribute to the Company’s sustainable growth and improvement in its corporate value, the Company actively conducts IR activities with shareholders and institutional investors led by the Company’s representatives and other senior management along with members of the Finance & Accounting Department.

The Company’s IR Department is in charge of dialogue and exchange with shareholders and institutional investors, and the IR Department makes proper disclosure while examining how it responds with the President and the Director in charge in accordance with the Company’s policy of “fair, simple and timely” disclosure.

The IR Department deals with interviews with shareholders and institutional investors, including interviews given by the President and the Director in charge, taking the purpose of the interview and the attributes of the interviewees into consideration. As for the disclosure and presentation of financial results, etc., the relevant departments such as Corporate Planning, Finance & Accounting, Corporate Communications, etc. hold discussions on a regular basis with the IR Department that supports dialogue to ensure organic cooperation for proper information disclosure. In addition, the Company holds financial results presentations (half-year and full-year results) twice a year for analysts and institutional investors, and the President also holds small meetings with analysts and institutional investors to explain the Company's business operations. For individual shareholders, the President holds dialogue and exchange meetings and the Company also organizes financial results briefings specifically for individual shareholders. Furthermore, dialogue and exchanges with analysts, institutional investors and individual shareholders are being carried out over the Internet from FY2020.

Information about these activities is posted on the Company's webpages as necessary.

Matters Related to the Independence of Such Directors and/or Staff from Executive Directors

The Company has one standing Audit & Supervisory Committee member as a Director and employee to support the Audit & Supervisory Committee in its duties, and the Internal Audit Department is in charge of assisting said member. To ensure the independence of said Director and employee, the Company is required to obtain the prior consent of the Audit & Supervisory Committee when determining matters relating to authority to manage the personnel affairs of said Director and the head of the Internal Audit Department, including appointments, personnel changes and disciplinary action.

Cooperation among the Audit & Supervisory Committee, Accounting Auditors and Internal Audit Departments

The Company receives submission of an annual audit plan and a report of audit results from PricewaterhouseCoopers Aarata LLC with which it has concluded an audit agreement. Audit and Supervisory Committee Members are present at audits conducted by the audit corporation and also cooperate closely with the accounting auditor and the Internal Audit Department, exchanging information and opinions with them on a regular basis. The Company’s internal audits audit whether the business activities of each office are conducted properly and efficiently in compliance with laws and regulations, rules, management policies and management plans, and they aim to contribute to the rationalization of management and improvement of business efficiency. The Internal Audit Department monitors the reliability of financial reports from a neutral perspective as a business unit under direct supervision of the President and as the secretariat of the Audit and Supervisory Committee. It also directly audits the status of business execution of each business unit in the Group on a regular basis and endeavors to strengthen group governance. Any problems identified in audits are reported in a timely manner to the Audit and Supervisory Committee and the President and necessary measures and improvements are sought.

[Incentives]

Incentive Policies for Directors	Performance-linked Remuneration and Others

Supplementary Explanation

The Directors' remuneration from the Company consists of basic remuneration as well as cash bonuses linked to performance, and share remuneration. Basic remuneration is a fixed amount of remuneration determined by the extent of the roles and duties of each title, which is within the total amount approved by the general meeting of shareholders. The composition ratios are determined for each title.

Cash bonuses and share remuneration are determined based on the core operating income ratio and net income as company-wide business performance indicators and the contribution level of each individual director and officer. From FY2020, the Company introduced a director and officer remuneration Board Incentive Plan ("BIP") trust as new form of share remuneration with greater transparency and linkages with providing value to shareholders. Furthermore, the Company established the Remuneration Committee in FY2014 as an advisory body to the Board of Directors in order to increase transparency and objectivity of decisions pertaining to director and officer remuneration. From FY2016, the Company added the roles and functions for the nomination of directors to this committee, which in turn was renamed the Remuneration and Nomination Advisory Committee, with independent external directors comprising a majority of its members.

Disclosure of Policy on Determining Remuneration Amounts and Calculation Methods

As for Directors' remuneration, the participants at the 72nd Annual General Meeting of Shareholders held on March 25, 2016 passed a resolution to separate the Directors (excluding members of the Audit and Supervisory Committee) and Directors who are members of the Audit and Supervisory Committee and set the total amounts to no more than 500 million yen for Directors (excluding members of the Audit and Supervisory Committee) and no more than 100 million yen for Directors who are members of the Audit and Supervisory Committee.

The decision-making body and the procedures for Directors' remuneration are specified as indicated below in the Company's Rules on Remuneration for Directors and Executive Officers.

- The remuneration for Directors (excluding members of the Audit and Supervisory Committee) is determined by the Board of Directors upon deliberations of the Remuneration and Nomination Advisory Committee, using the average level of the results of remuneration surveys participated in by large companies in Japan as the benchmark and taking into account other factors such as each Director's social and relative position and level of contribution to the Company, in order to ensure the Company's market competitiveness.
- The remuneration for Directors who are members of the Audit and Supervisory Committee is determined through discussions of the Audit and Supervisory Committee.

For such decision-making, the Remuneration and Nomination Advisory Committee, which is an advisory body of the Board of Directors, deliberates on the establishment and revision of Directors' remuneration and evaluation systems and the appropriateness of evaluation results, fixed amounts of remuneration, and performance-linked compensation.

[Supporting System for External Directors]

The Corporate Planning Department which is the secretariat of the Board of Directors explains and distributes reference materials for meetings of the Board of Directors, etc. to External Directors before meetings where necessary.

2. Matters on Functions of Business Execution, Auditing, Oversight, Nomination and Remuneration Decisions (Overview of Current Corporate Governance System)

The Company has a corporate structure with an Audit and Supervisory Committee. The Company defines the main role of the Board of Directors as to decide management strategy and management policies and monitor their implementation, and the Company seeks to enhance the advisory function and strengthen the supervisory function of the Board of Directors and to increase its effectiveness by appointing three or more External Directors who satisfy the Standards for Judging the Independence of Independent External Directors of the Company. The Audit and Supervisory Committee sets a policy of having one or more standing Audit and Supervisory Committee members and uses internal control systems to audit the legality and appropriateness of the operations implemented by the Directors.

Nomination and remuneration of Directors are deliberated by the Remuneration and Nomination Advisory Committee, in which Independent External Directors account for one half or more of its members. The results of the deliberation are advised to the Board of Directors which then determines the nomination and remuneration of Directors, thereby enhancing fairness and appropriateness.

Under its executive officer system, the Company uses set criteria to delegate implementation responsibilities and authority to its departments. The Company has established the Meeting of Executive Officers in order to convey and make known the Board of Directors' resolutions and reported matters as well as to facilitate communication and coordination among executive officers. Moreover, the Management Meetings have been established under the leadership of the President to ensure business is executed agilely and through mutual coordination. Deliberations in the Management Meetings enable appropriate risk taking and also produce clear allocations of responsibilities, while enabling the Company to make decisions in an expedient manner.

3. Reasons for Adoption of Current Corporate Governance System

The Company chose a corporate structure with an Audit and Supervisory Committee to further separate business executive functions from supervisory functions, increasing the speed and flexibility of decisions on the business execution side while at the same time strengthening the business execution supervisory functions. The Company adopted the current system to increase the accountability of the Board of Directors and realize sustainable growth and improvement in corporate value over the medium and long term.
